

Chanukkah Candle Lighting

What you need

One Chanukiah (8 branched menorah, plus one holder for the shamash (servant) positioned higher than the others), 44 candles that fit the Chanukiah, matches, Bible.

How to Light the Chanukiah

The first night, place a candle in the holder furthest to the right. Place a second candle in the shamash holder. Recite the blessings and light the shamash, then use the shamash to light the other candle. Return the shamash to its holder. The second night, place two candles in the holders furthest to the right, along with a candle in the shamash holder. Recite the blessings and light the shamash, then use the shamash to light the other candles from left to right, returning it to its holder. Continue in this manner adding an additional candle each night. Traditionally, the Chanukiah is lit anytime after sundown, except on Shabbat, when it is lit before sundown. If placed in a window, the candles should appear from right to left.
